What Makes Morris Elementary Special?

Morris Elementary was originally called Madison Pike Elementary and was started in 1958. It was renamed Louis J. Morris in 1976 in honor of its first principal. Then in 2017 the new building was opened and the name changed to Morris P-8. This year, 2019, the school was split and renamed back to Morris Elementary. Both Morris Middle School and Morris Elementary share the same building. Even though we are considered two schools now, our staff and faculties will always be one large family.
